NINETEEN HUNDRED FIFTY TWO

The 1952 Sycamore
Wabash High School

Wabash
Indiana

Shirley Johnson
Don Wolpert Co-Editors

The Sycamore presents the year nineteen fifty-two

This is our story . . .

Here is an autumn view of one of the most beautiful high schools in the state of Indiana. To those of us who must walk to school, this scene is indeed a familiar one. Falling leaves as shown here, an icy whiteness in the winter, the green buds of spring-time — all these are seen along this walk in the course of a school year.

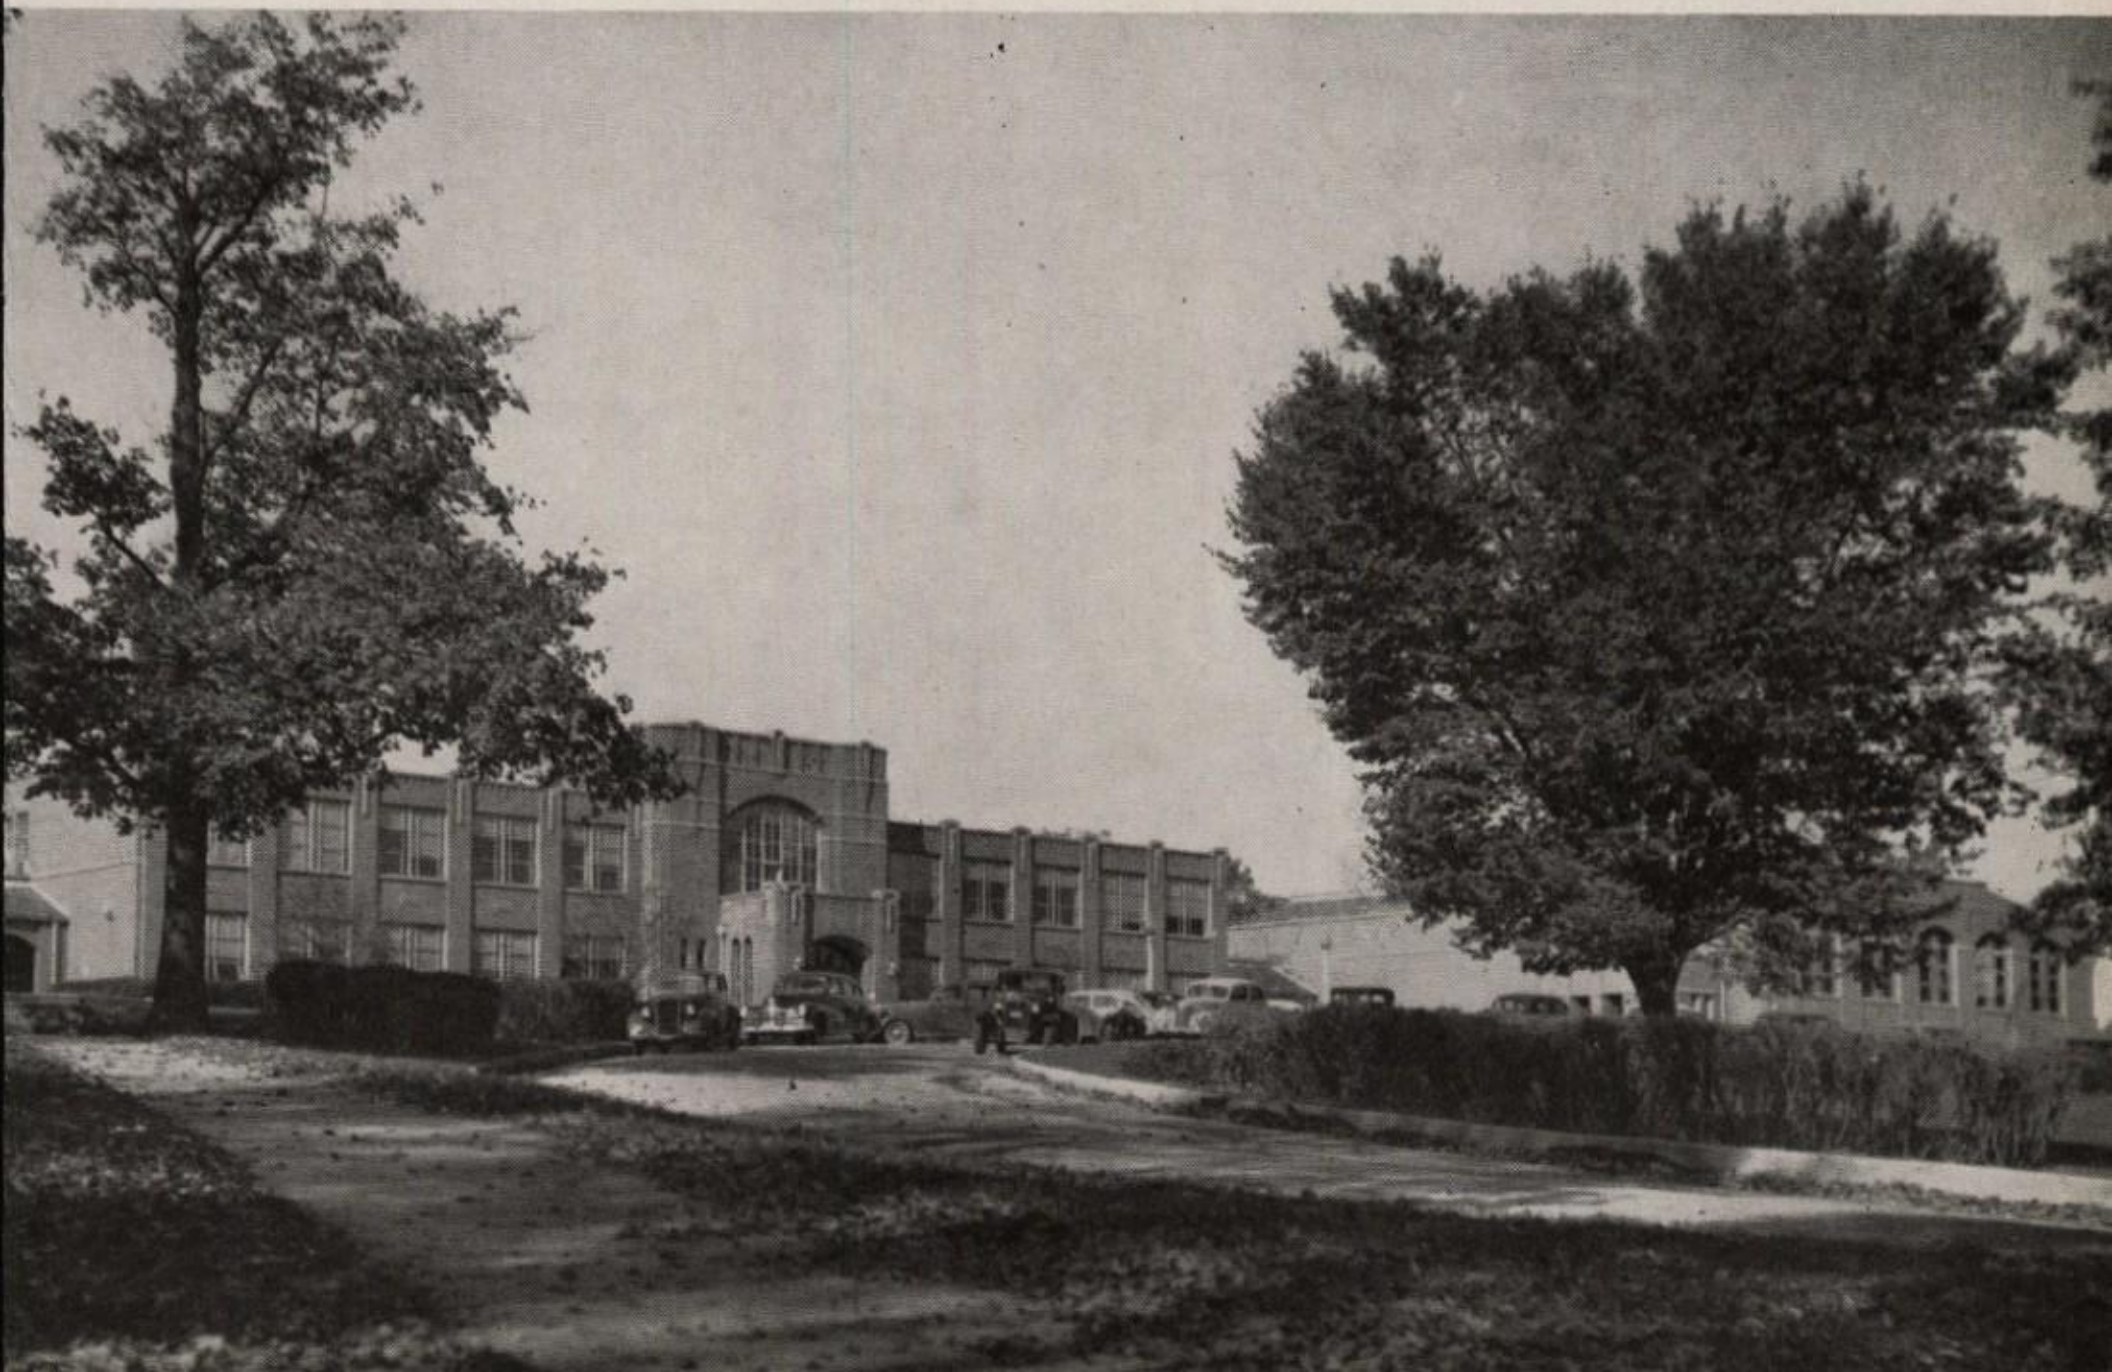

We took this shot of an unsuspecting group from the balcony above the front entrance. The students often gather like this at noon.

Jim's "T" was a familiar sight around W.H.S. in the fall, and we knew that our story wouldn't be complete without it. Believe it or not, this decrepit buggy ran like a top, making Jim quite popular with W.H.S.'ers.

... 1952 at Wabash

... it began as any

Gallant W.H.S. seniors welcome some of our newly acquired freshmen. We do our best to make them feel right at home.

Here are some of the students who came to Wabash from other schools. We have tried to be friendly, and we hope they have enjoyed their school days here.

other year . . .

Senior candy sales do a booming business during the noon hour. Students and teachers alike support this project to help finance the Sycamore.

Mrs. Wilson supplied our students with school equipment and friendly advice before she left us early in the school year. She still has her flashing smile whenever we see her at the canteen, however.

... we met old friends and found new ones . . .

Perhaps you have not seen the seniors being so polite or so musical as pictured here, but the Class of '52 has produced a fine group of students. We're all fun-loving and have even been said to be a bit boisterous at times. Believe us, it has all been meant in a spirit of fun.

Meet the Seniors

Remember those cold, snowy winter days when you couldn't walk around the semi-circle like this? Just shiver, and be glad warm weather is here again.

V. I. P.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Bob Mattern, president; Jim Sampson, vice-president; Don Wolpert, secretary-treasurer; Skip Osthimer, athletic board member.

Our senior class is following a time-honored W.H.S. tradition by producing the Sycamore as a memento of the past school year. We will soon be leaving our alma mater for the last time as students of this fine institution of learning.

As we look back across our four years here, we each remember little events important to us alone; but we all remember the big events — from our first day at W.H.S., through eight long semesters, to the now inevitable day of graduation. Whatever we may say will not, cannot, reveal our feelings for Wabash High School and for all the people who make it the wonderful place it is.

... together, we backed our teams ...

These three ambitious-looking students were our cheerleaders throughout the past school year. They were present at all our football and basketball games to lead our fans in backing the teams. They also furnished many ideas for yells and stunts for the Booster Club.

Our hats are off to Phon Earl Hudkins, Marna Mullendore, and Linda Gray for a splendid job of helping us back our teams.

1951 Football Season

The season of 1951 will be long remembered by the football fans of Wabash. It was during this season that the mighty Apaches won the Central Indiana Conference title for the first time in eleven years. Although the season record was seven wins and two losses, the Apaches racked up five victories while losing none in conference play.

In their conference battles the Apaches led off with a 14 to 7 triumph over a good Elwood team. The following week Wabash played one of the most exciting games witnessed by local football fans in many a year as they nosed an inspired Huntington team 19 to 18 in the final twenty-eight seconds. By steady playing in all departments the Apaches proved to be too much for the Pilgrims from Plymouth as they dumped them 28 to 13 on Alumni Field before one of the season's largest crowds. Peru fell to the Scalpers a week later, 24 to 13. Hartford City received a warm greeting as they invaded Wabash for our homecoming game. The Apaches snowed them under 22 to 0 in the final conference tilt of the season. This was the last home game for twelve senior lettermen. A more fitting close cannot even be imagined.

In non-conference games the Apaches broke even as the season ended with a defeat by Marion. Wabash lost the season-opener to a very strong Logansport eleven, while downing Concordia of Fort Wayne and Jeffersonville.

WHS		Opponent
0	Logansport	19
14	Elwood	7
26	Concordia	21
19	Huntington	18
20	Jeffersonville	19
28	Plymouth	13
24	Peru	13
22	Hartford City	0
13	Marion	20

The conference title and the impressive season record were made possible by a well-balanced team that knew the meaning of teamwork. The line was headed by All-State End Bud Deeter. He was backed by Gene Miller and Jay Huffman, both All-Conference men, and Neil Barnhart, Jerry Garner, Bud Baker, and Jim Armstrong. These seven men were dependable starters.

In the backfield a lot of shifting took place during the season with only Bob Mattern and Skip Osthimer playing regularly. Both of these men were All-Conference Team members. Completing the four backfield positions were Tom Dunfee, Don Slagal, Butch Ross, Bern Basse, Dick Wolpert, and Bill Evans. Most of these boys will be welcomed back next year.

The number of lettermen shows the amount of determination and hard work put forth under the instruction and guidance of head coach John Tatum and his able staff.

The Sycamore wishes to offer congratulations to the team for a splendid season. We are looking forward to a comparable one for the 1952 team.

The 1951-52 Apache basketball team enjoyed a very good season although it did not compile a perfect record. It finished third in a hot conference race and won the Wabash Sectional Tournament for the fourth year in a row.

The Smithmen opened the season with an impressive win over North Manchester and continued to play good ball through mid-season when they held a seven won — two lost record. The two losses came at the hands of Kokomo, ranked as the number one team in the state, and Elwood, which finished the season as Central Indiana Conference champion.

In the Peru Holiday Tourney, Wabash lost a hard-fought overtime tilt to host team Peru.

During the last half of the regular season, the Scalpers had some tough luck, managing to win only four of the nine games played. However, one of these wins was over arch-rival Peru. The Apaches played a slow style of offense and defeated them handily, 50 to 42. This was the last game for Gene Miller, who was then leading the team in scoring.

Wabash won the final game of the season, a tune-up for the Sectional Tournament, as they whipped Noblesville.

Deeter blocks an attempted shot by a Peru player as a foul is called on Devault.

The Scalpers continued their mastery over the schools in our Sectional as they toppled four opponents. One of the most thrilling games of the season occurred during this tourney when the Apaches had to come from behind in the final minute to defeat an inspired South Whitley team.

The last win of the season was over Chester in the closing game of the Sectional, for in the Kokomo Regional Tournament, Wabash was stopped by a strong Sheridan team.

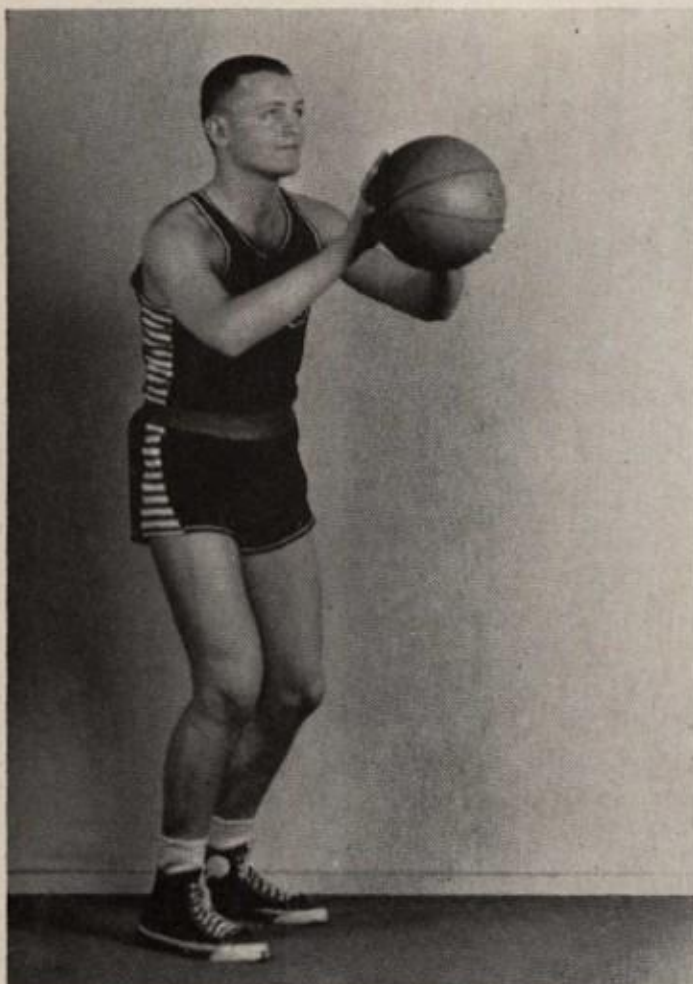

Three men rated positions on the All-Conference teams. Neil Barnhart received a berth on the first team; Bob Mattern was placed on the second squad; and Gene Miller filled a position on the third five.

At the annual basketball banquet, Bud Deeter was chosen as honorary team captain and Duane Devault was announced as a member of the All-Regional team at Kokomo. Senior Bob Mattern received the Free Throw Trophy, the Dorais Loyalty Award, and, for the third time, the Sportsmanship Trophy.

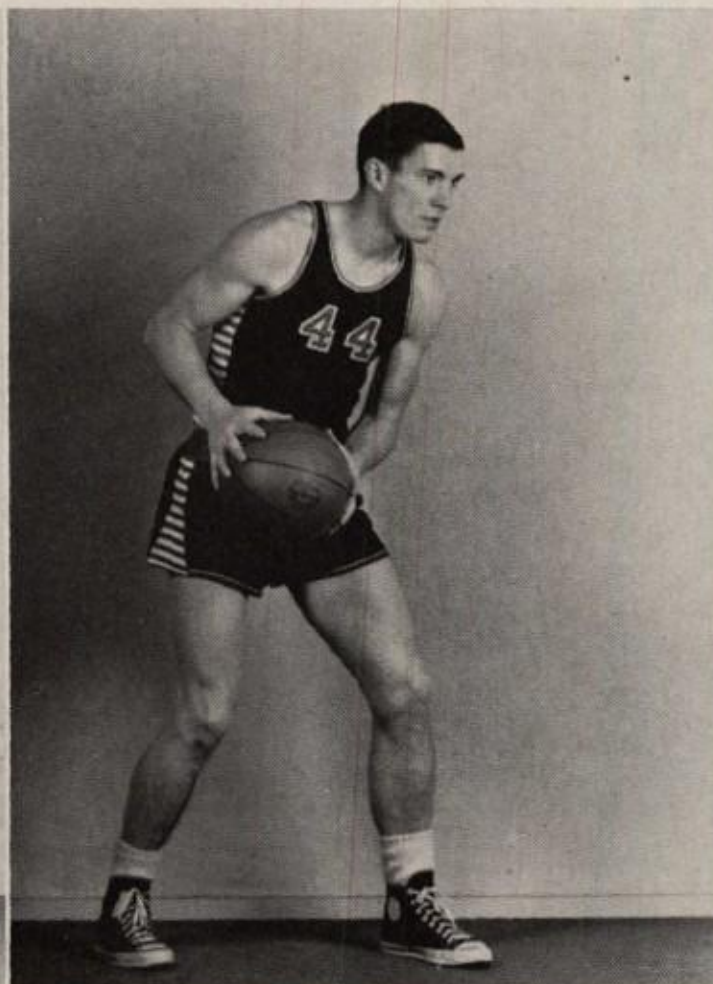

Thus the Wabash High School basketball team completed another successful season under Ward Smith, big and friendly coach of the Apaches.

SEASON HISTORY

The "B" team had a very successful season and showed bright prospects for the future. The Papooses, under the capable and experienced direction of Mr. Coolman, won sixteen of the games played. They competed in two four-way tourneys, winning one from Warsaw, but dropping the other to Kokomo. They were leading in the "B" team C. I. C. race but fell back when the I.H.S.A.A. ruling limiting all teams to twenty games during the regular season forced them to cancel two games.

These boys all showed fine spirit and several of them gained a bit of varsity experience during the season. If this group of players continues to put forth the brand of ball of which they are capable, we will see some very fine Apache teams in the next two or three years.

BOOSTER CLUB

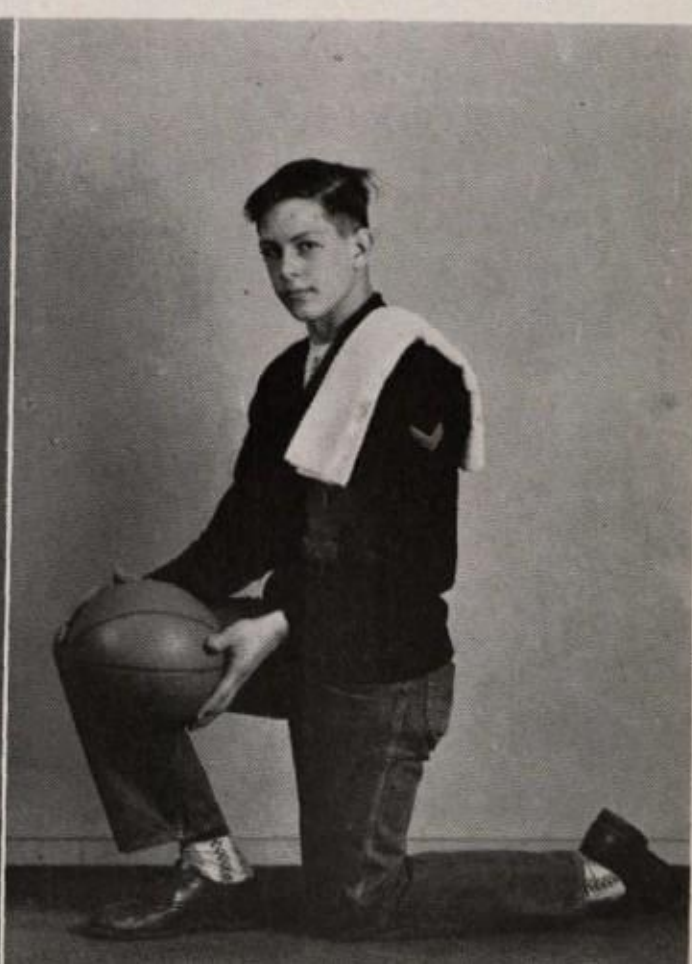

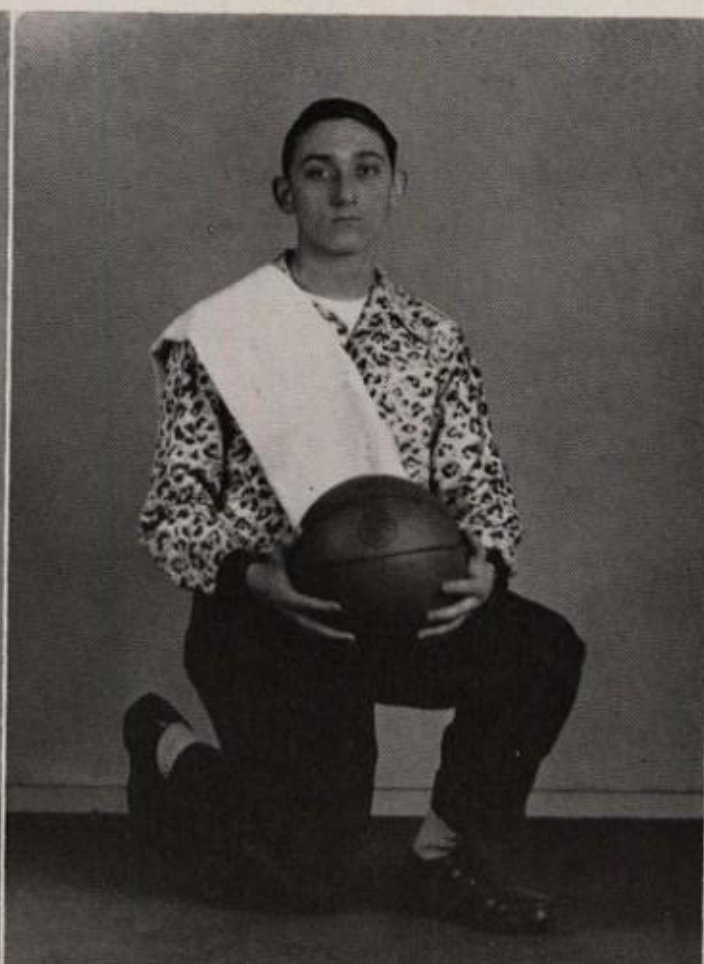

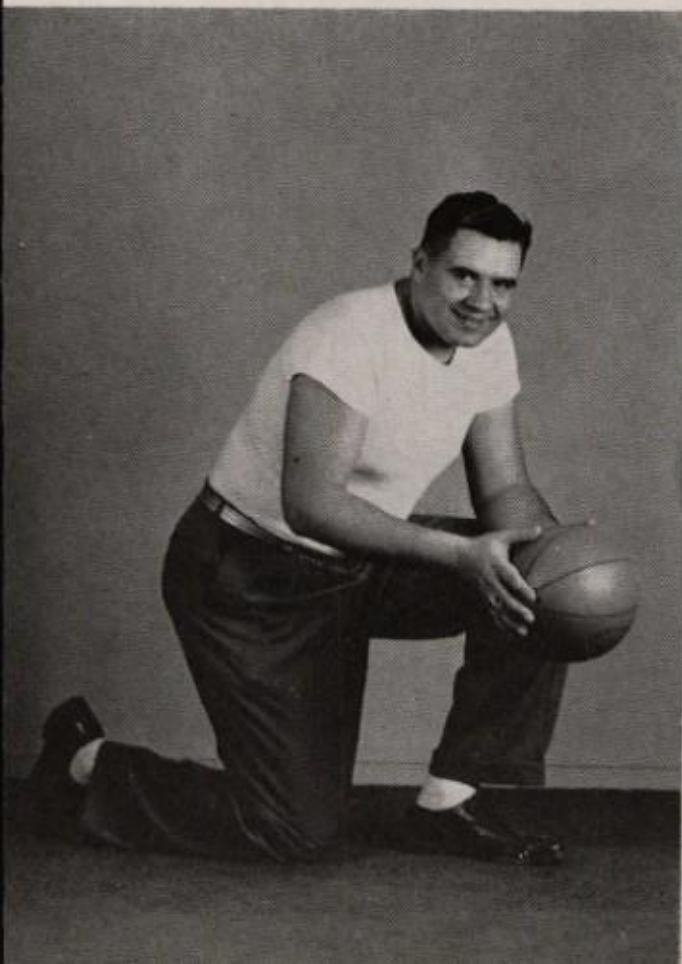

The Booster Club provides organized backing for our high school teams. The grouping of the white shirt-clad boosters presents a striking and inspiring sight at the basketball games. The yells and stunts they presented in cooperation with the cheerleaders really helped our teams to their many victories. The Booster Club at Wabash High School is a going concern. It will be backing our teams for a long time to come.

TRACK SEASON 1952

The track season is in full swing this year as we are going to press. So far the Apaches have won three dual meets while dropping two. They also placed second in a three-way meet at Marion. At the Muncie Relays the thinly clad were nosed out of first place by $\frac{3}{4}$ of a point.

This year's team is one of the best Coach Holloway has had for some time. There is depth in almost all of the positions, with the runners being more numerous than the field men.

The leading point winners for the Apaches so far have been Skip Osthimer, Rex France, Bob Mattern, and Jay Huffman in the field events. In the running department, Leonard Merrick, Duane Devault, Butch Ross, Max Miller, Kelson Slayman, Neil Barnhart, and Richard Christman have been doing most of the work.

The Scalpers will make a strong bid for the conference crown this year, and they also hope to add points toward our retaining the All-Sports Trophy. The student body is back of the team all the way.

Miss Wilson instructs art classes such as this one throughout the afternoons at W. H. S. She keeps them busy, but most of her students don't need much prodding, for this class enjoys quite a bit of outdoor work.

Here is a group of students trying to learn some of the ways of the business world. Mr. Barnhart's bookkeeping class is typical of those in the commercial department. "Why all the figures?", seems to be a common question in these classes.

Braver biology students muster their courage and peer into the depths of a black microscope as Mr. Elliott attempts to reveal to them the secrets of another world. He really has his hands full trying to keep them busy and quiet.

*... everyone worked hard

Here is the cast of the Senior Play of 1952. Following ten days of constant rehearsal under the patient but determined guidance of Mrs. Vera Kinerk, the senior class presented "Cheaper By the Dozen." It was very well received in Wabash and made all the work seem very worth while. As usual, Mrs. Kinerk didn't want her picture used in the Sycamore, but we owe our success to her.

Dad disapproves of checkers even after homework is finished. "If you always do a little more, pretty soon you skip a grade."

We have no pictures of our costuming and property committees; but, as you can see from the pictures on these two pages, they did a wonderful job.

The play was presented in the Honeywell Memorial Auditorium. We wish to thank all the wonderful people there for the way they accepted us. A big vote of thanks goes to Jim Martin, who handled the lighting and directed our stage committee.

Dramatics

Miss Mills, well-informed teacher of dramatics, has successfully coached several plays this past year for both school and community. The dramatics students learn more than how to present plays. They study staging, arrangement, and the elusive art of make-up. Enjoyment as well as education in the field of dramatics was an achievement of each student.

ORANGE AND BLACK

The Orange and Black serves the school by editing a school newspaper which is given free to each WHS student and teacher through the courtesy of Wabash merchants. Serving as sponsor the first semester was Miss Huff, who found it necessary to be relieved because of other responsibilities. Miss Huff was followed the second semester by Mrs. Squires who has continued doing a wonderful job in a very tedious position.

Three new members were welcomed into the Quill and Scroll, bringing the W.H.S. membership to seven. Quill and Scroll is an international honor society for journalism students. Rigid requirements must be met before membership is granted to applicants.

Shown here are a few O. & B. staff members about to depart to various sections of the city to solicit advertisements for the support of the paper. By paying for the publication in this manner, the O. & B. is able to supply the paper to the W.H.S. students and faculty free of charge.

The members of this group are: Max Robinett, Dick Wolpert, Shirley Baxter, Kay Clauve, Barbara Mowrer, Diane Vice, and Tom Dunfee.

The Orange and Black has undergone several changes of the editorial staff and a change in sponsorship during the past school year. Because of wholehearted cooperation among sponsors, editors, and staff, however, the paper has continued to come off the press with news about happenings, students, teachers, parents — anything of interest to us here at W.H.S.

The special tourney edition is an example of the type of work these students do to keep us informed of things we would like to know.

This publication is ever alert for new or unusual ways and means of presenting facts. With this purpose in mind, an active exchange department keeps in contact with school newspapers throughout the country. Trying to present new ideas while staying within the budget often poses a big problem, but, so far, the paper has attained a very high level of achievement.

The students pictured on these two pages are the ones responsible for the publication of the Orange and Black. They deserve a big, "Thank You," from all of us here at W.H.S.

Row two: Kathro Jinks, Dennis Philpott, Dave Barnett, Bill Hetzler, Skip Osthimer, Mary Harvey, Katie Kinerk.

These two students, Shirley Johnson and Don Wolpert, were chosen as co-editors of this year's Sycamore.

SYCAMORE STAFF

When elections were held by the juniors last year to determine who would serve on the Sycamore staff, the deserving students pictured on these two pages were chosen. The results of their labor are before you in this '52 annual.

The work of the energetic but inexperienced annual staff was directed by the capable sponsors, Miss Ruth Jones and Miss Hipskind, assisted by Miss Dove.

Inserting a little correct grammar into the copy, keeping the staff from getting too far behind with assignments, working with the concessions committees, and similar work kept these three very busy while this book was taking shape.

The Class of '52 is happy to present to you, through the Sycamore staff, this annual. We have put a lot of hard work into it, but we have enjoyed every minute of it. Oftentimes, schoolwork suffered a bit because the Sycamore needed attention, and we are grateful to all the members of the W.H.S. faculty for their very gracious cooperation and understanding.

The staff was able to survive the year without too many casualties. The only major change came about when Curt Smith was forced to resign as concessions manager because of other pressing responsibilities. His assistant, Paul Bender, took over the position and did a very fine job of handling our concessions business during the basketball season.

G. A. A. is an organization for enthusiastic girl athletes of W. H. S. The girls enjoy many competitive sports. Sweaters are awarded to those girls completing certain requirements set up by the club.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

FRANK A. RETTIG, treasurer;

LAURENCE J. GRAY, secretary;

DR. GEORGE B. FULTS, president

... we were led by our faculty ...

The above men serve as a governing board in the Wabash school system. Their attention during the past school year has been focused upon bond issues, contracts, and other details relative to getting the new West Ward building project under way.

Noted for their efficiency and desire to give service are these two friendly secretaries. They help to keep order as well as books in their respective offices, and they cheerfully dispense information as well as supplies.

Mrs. Shaver

LEEWELL H. CARPENTER

Our superintendent, Mr. Leewell H. Carpenter, finds his duties multiplied several times by the building program, which has progressed from the blue-print stage. Ground has been broken and materials moved in for the construction of the new West Ward school.

In order to function smoothly, a school system needs a capable pilot at the helm. Keeping his attention fixed upon those things which will mean the most to the entire system, Mr. Carpenter ably steers his course.

Mr. Phil Eskew, who for five years was principal of Wabash High School, accepted a position as superintendent of schools in Sullivan at the beginning of this school year. It was with regret that we bade farewell to Phil.

PHIL N. ESKEW

The cordial welcome extended to Principal Joe Shanahan by the vice-principals, advisers, and secretary gives evidence of the feeling that all teachers have for their new mentor. We are confident that the years ahead will be happy ones under Mr. Shanahan's guidance.

M.A. Ohio State University

Our new principal, Joe Shanahan, did not assume responsibilities here until November 1; but during the short time he has worked as our chief executive, he has proved his determination to conduct school affairs efficiently and to maintain high scholastic standards. Mr. Shanahan was formerly principal of Linlawn High School.

FACULTY

Quite often students think teachers are being very hard on them. Just try getting really acquainted with them one of these times when you feel that way. You'll find them human.

Art

Perhaps you wonder why teachers put up with students as well as they do. However, it's hard to find a teacher who would give up his vocation for the world.

Shown here are some events and memories from the 1951-52 school year. Remember?

Thus we bring to a close our little story of the past year at
W. H. S. Hope you liked it!

We are extremely grateful to these sponsors whose whole-hearted support made the 1952 Sycamore possible.
